

ABSTRACT

There is provided an organic electro luminescence device which includes at least one thin organic layer between an anode substrate and a cathode. The cathode includes first to fourth electrodes stacked on the thin organic layer. The first and third electrodes are formed of alkali metal or alkali earth metal, and the second and fourth electrodes are formed of aluminum (Al) or silver (Ag).

DC:126863.1